sponsor a child

---

AAH's child sponsorship program ensures one child's spot at AAH. Sponsored children get a well-rounded education and their basic health and nutrition needs met. AAH encourages groups or individuals to make their sponsorships an annual tradition to see the child all the way through schooling. AAH also asks the parents of sponsored children to work in partnership with their child's sponsor by either paying a small portion of the school fees or volunteering their time at the school. This way, the entire community is invested in the success of the children and the school.

Why sponsor a child?

- Give a child an education.
- Provide encouragement and hope.
- Give a child a sense of self worth, expanding the child's horizons.
- Show a child in need that you care.
- Ensure a warm lunch every day, and a school uniform every year.
- Gain a unique understanding for what it is like to grow up in rural Uganda.
- Discover a wonderful culture.
- Teach and enrich your own children's lives.
- Receive letters three times a year and photos periodically.
- Know you are making a profound difference in a child's life and to an entire community.

How do I become a sponsor?

- To become a sponsor, fill out the AAH child sponsorship application and donate $360 annually or $30 monthly (by credit card). This amount supports a child's education for one full year.

How does the AAH child sponsorship program work?

- AAH volunteers in the U.S. match each application with one child.
- You receive a letter, profile and photograph introducing you to your sponsored child.
- AAH sends you letters from your child three times per year.
- You get the chance to respond to each other with AAH facilitating the exchange of letters.
- You receive periodic updates from AAH on school events, progress and other developments.
